

Floods in Muminabad district, Khatlon province
Tajikistan
Situation report № 2
24th April 2012

Situation Overview

As a result of heavy rains on 21 April 2012, the river flowing through Khonatarosh village reached flood stage at about 1700 hrs local time and resulted in a flooding with large stones and debris from eroded river banks. The flooding affected a total of 1,820 people (260 households) in Dehibaland Jamoat of Muminabad district, and continued until April 22nd, 2012.

A 34 year old female resident of the village was killed by the mudflow. Villagers were warned about the expected flood few hours before its occurrence, which significantly reduced the possible casualties.

The flood destroyed a total of 5 houses. The affected residents were relocated to their neighbors and relatives houses. Outbuildings (storage facilities, cattle sheds, toilets and etc) and kitchen gardens of another 168 houses were severely damaged, although living premises remain in habitable condition. The damaged kitchen gardens had already been prepared for planting and an addition 109.81 hectares of cultivated land of the local collective farm ("kolkhoz") were flooded. A large number of cattle belonging to local residents were also killed in the flood.

The flood damaged 5 bridges, including one bridge which connects the village with the local school. The school is currently functioning, but due to problems with access, school attendance is very low. Several water points (piped supply and springs) were damaged by the flood. Currently, there is only one spring, located 1 km away from the village, providing drinking water for the village. The village medical post is functioning and providing services to the population.
